INDEX

INDEX

Agriculture
  and irrigation in Indo-China, 132–133, 134 and irrigation in Malaya, government promotion of, 107–108 and irrigation in Thailand, government promotion of, 116
  in Netherlands East Indies, 4–5
  insufficient for population needs, 86
  See also Foodstuffs and other agricultural products; Rubber; Teakwood Ananda Mahidol, King of Thailand, 112
Arita, Hachiro, quoted, 59–60

Bajpai, Girja Shankar, 124
Ba Maw (Dr.), 121, 123
BARNETT, PATRICIA G., The Chinese in Southeastern Asia and the Philippines, 32–49
Birth rate of Netherlands Indies, 86
BURMA, John L. Christian, 120–128
Burma
  Burmese attitudes toward foreigners, 124–125, 127, 145
  Chinese in Burmese relations with, 43, 124
    number and percentage of, 33
    political and social status of, 40–41
  economic development of, 2–3 controlled by foreigners, 25, 123–125
  foreign investments in British, 25–26
    Chinese, 30
    estimate of, 22
    United States, 24
  foreign relations of, 126–127
  geography of, 120
  government and politics of, 121–123, 145–146 government finance in, 125–126
  Indians in, 123–124
  indifference of masses to democracy, 146
  Japanese in, 124
  Japanese invasion of Burmese assistance in, 145–146 disillusionment of Burmese by, 125, 127 reasons for, 66
  occupational distribution in, 120 political leaders of, caliber of, 121 population of, 33, 120
  postwar problems of, 127–128, 146–147 racial and language distribution in, 120–121 religions in, 121
  separation of, from India, 122 trade relations of, with India, 124, 126 Business, see Commercial pursuits
Butler, Harold, quoted, 104–105, 108

CALLIS, HELMUT G., Capital Investment in Southeastern Asia and the Philippines, 22–31
  cited, 22, 36
CAPITAL INVESTMENT IN SOUTHEASTERN ASIA AND THE PHILIPPINES, Helmut G. Callis, 22–31
Chen Ta, cited, 32, 33, 39, 40, 43
Chiang Kai-shek, 47, 142
Chinese in six countries of southeastern Asia after the present war, 48–49 antagonism toward, 30, 43–47, 101, 115–116 comparative permanence of, 33, 97 co-operation of, in defense against Japanese, 47–48 economic interests of, 29–30, 33–36 history of immigration, 32 numbers and percentages of, 33, 86, 97, 112, 129 pioneer qualities of, 33
  political and social status of, 36–42, 99, 101, 104 relations of, with China, 29, 30, 44–45, 46, 104, 112, 138, 142 remittances of, to China, 29, 30 treatment of, by Japanese during occupation, 48
CHINESE IN SOUTHEASTERN ASIA AND THE PHILIPPINES, THE, Patricia G. Barnett, 32–49 CHRISTIAN, JOHN L., Burma, 120–128
  cited, 41, 126, 145, 148
Citizenship of Chinese born in Indo-China, 41
  Malaya, 104
  Netherlands Indies, 39
Climate and rainfall
  in north Pacific area, 62–63
  in southeastern Asia, 1–2 in the East Indies, 4
  in the Philippines, 6
Colonial policies and development of Americans in Philippines, 149 of British in Burma, 127–128, 145, 149 of British in Malaya, 99–101, 103–110, 141, 144–145, 149 of Dutch in Netherlands East Indies, 92–96, 139, 150 of French in all dependencies, 150 of French in Indo-China, 130–135 relation of partnership rather than guardianship, 149 Commercial pursuits dislike of Indo-Chinese for, 130 inaptitude of Thai for, 115 indifference of Burmese to, 125 prominence of Chinese in
    in Indo-China, 30
    in Malaya, 29
    in Netherlands Indies, 29

in Philippine Islands, 29–30
in Thailand, 30
Communications in Thailand, a government monopoly, 114
See also Transportation
Conrad, Joseph, 102
Co-operative societies in Malaya, 107
Cranbourne (Lord), quoted, 143

Death rate of Netherlands Indies, 86 Debt, public
of Malaya, 24, 109, 110
of Netherlands East Indies, 27, 93
of Thailand, 26, 117
Democracy
Burma unfitted for, 121–122, 127–128, 146 Filipinos receptive to, 139 indifference of southeastern Asians to, vii–viii, 137–138 Malaya unfitted for, 99, 110, 141–142
Netherlands Indies unfitted for, 137, 138, 139, 140
Dennett, Tyler, cited, 53
Deveraux, James P., 20

EARLE, FRANCES M., Geography of the Southeast Tropics, 1–8 Education
in Indo-China, 134
in Malaya, 38, 105–106
in Netherlands East Indies
for Chinese, 40
literacy, 87
in Philippine Islands
government policies regarding, 79–80 private Chinese schools, 42
in Thailand, 114
restricted to Thai language and character, 46
Emerson, Rupert, cited, 37, 38, 43, 44

Foodstuffs and other agricultural products cinchona, introduced into Java from South America, 5
in Burma, 2
in Indo-China, 3
in Java, 4–5
in Malaya, 3–4
in Netherlands East Indies, 5, 88
in Thailand, 3
in the Outer Provinces (N. E. I.), 5 in the Philippine Islands, 7 rice, economic importance of, 2
See also Rubber; Teakwood
Foreign domination of southeastern Asia, 7
Foreign investments in southeastern Asia, 90, 104
British, 24–26
Chinese, 29–30
Dutch, 26–27
estimate of, 22
French, 27–28
German, 28
Japanese, 31
United States, 22–24
Furnivall, J. S., cited, 44

Geography of the Pacific war area Burma, 120
distances between Pacific points, 62–63, 69 East Indies, 4–5
north Pacific area, 62–63
Philippine Islands, 6–7 southeastern Asia, 1–3
GEOGRAPHY OF THE SOUTHEAST TROPICS, Frances M. Earle, 1–8
George V of England, 99
Government
and politics of Burma, 121–123, 145–146 and politics of Thailand, 112–113, 138
of Indo-China, 130, 131
of Malaya, 37–38, 98–101
of Netherlands East Indies, 90–92, 95–96
of Philippine Commonwealth, 74–81 Government finance
of Burma, 125–126
of Indo-China, 131–132
of Malaya, 109–110
of Netherlands East Indies, 92–93
of Philippine Commonwealth, statutory provisions for, 76, 80–81
of Thailand, 114, 116–117
Grew, Joseph Clark, quoted, 67

HANDLER, JOSEPH, Indo-China: Eighty Years of French Rule, 129–136
Hayden, Joseph R., cited, 35, 42, 45, 144, 148
Health and health services
in Indo-China, 134–135
in Malaya, 105
in Thailand, 113–114
HESTER, E. D., Outline of Our Recent Political and Trade Relations with the Philippine Commonwealth, 73–85
Hitler, Adolf, 71, 121
Holland, W. L., cited, 144

Immigration of Chinese into southeastern Asia, 32
Imperialism, not an unmixed evil, 127
IMPLICATIONS OF JAPANESE FOREIGN POLICY FOR THE PHILIPPINES AND SOUTHEASTERN ASIA, Harold M. Vinacke, 50–61 Income, annual, of various groups in Netherlands East Indies, 90
Indo-China
Annamite nationalism, 135–136
Chinese in
effort to curb economic activities of, 43
number and percentage of, 33, 129

political and economic status of, 41 defense of, inadequate, '35
economic development of, 3, 28, 132–134
Chinese share in, 30
education in, 134
foreign investments in Chinese, 30
estimate of, 22
French, 27–28
United States, 24
French policy in, 130–131 government by Annamites, 130 government finance, 131–132
government structure, 131
health services in, 134–135 Japanese occupation of, 59 compared with German methods in Czechoslovakia, 129 treatment of Annamites by Japanese, 136 population of, 33, 129–130
postwar status of, 136, 147
public works in, financed by France, 27 races in, 129–130
INDO-CHINA: EIGHTY YEARS OF FRENCH RULE, Joseph Handler, 129–136 Industrial expansion
as an aid to international trade, 11–12, 16
U. S., as creating demand for raw materials, 11–12, 16
Industrial weakness, of southeastern Asiatic countries, ix Industry, see Commercial pursuits International trade between southeastern Asia, Europe, and the Western Hemisphere, ix industrial expansion as aid to, 11–12, 16
of Indo-China, 133
of Japan, 20–21
of Netherlands East Indies, 88–89
of southeastern Asia and Philippines, extent and commodities of, 12–15 of United States
causes of changes in, 10–11 changes in direction of trade, 10 changes in trade commodities, 9–10 with southeastern Asia, 14–15 relations between United States and Philippines, 81–85 Investments, see Foreign investments Irrigation, see Agriculture
Ishii, Kikujiro, cited, 50

Japan
area dominated by, 68
industrial production of, 56 military mindedness and preparation of, 63–64, 66 no possibility of collapse of, 67–68 possible military operations of, 66–67 postwar position of, in international trade, 20–21 Japanese foreign policy control of Manchuria and North China, 55–56 economic southward expansion, 56–57 history of expansionism, 52–54 motivated by desire for national equality, 50–53 political southward expansion, 59–61 resistance to, by major powers, 57–58 shift to economic emphasis, 54–55 the "new order," 58
Java, see Netherlands East Indies
Jjarda van Starkenborgh Stachouwer, Jhr. A. W. L., 95

Kawai, Tatsuo, cited, 55
Kennedy, Raymond, cited, 137
Kerstens, P. A., 95
Kobayashi, Ichizo, 60

Labor policies in Malaya, 108
LANDON, KENNETH PERRY, Thailand, 112–119
cited, 42, 47, 112, 113, 148
Lanessan, de, 130
Languages in Burma, 121
Lewis, Cleona, cited, 24
Louis XIV of France, 112
Lyautey, Louis H. G., 150

MacArthur, Douglas, 144
MacNair, Harley Farnsworth, cited, 43
MALAYA, Richard Winstedt, 97–111
Malaya
agriculture, government promotion of, 107–108 Chinese in
antagonism toward, 101, 142
benefits of, to Malaya, 36
number and percentage of, 33, 97
occupations of, 98
political activities of, 38, 44
political and social status of, 37–38, 104
relations of, with China, 44, 104, 142 co-operative societies in, 107
defense of, inadequate, 65, 102–104, 143–144
economic development of, 3–4, 107–108
controlled by foreigners, 24–25, 29, 31, 101
education in, 105–106
foreign investments in, 104
British, 24–25
Chinese, 29
Dutch, 27
estimate of, 22
French, 28
Japanese, 31
United States, 24
government finance
public debt, 24, 109, 110

revenue and expenditures, 109–110 government structure of, 37–38, 98–101
Indians in, 97–98
interracial relations in, 101–102, 142
Japanese invasion of, 102, 142–144
labor policies in, 108 land policies in, 108
loyalty of, to Great Britain, 99–100
occupational distribution in, 98
population of, 33, 97
national and racial distribution of, 97 postwar economy, finance, and politics of, 110–111, 144 public health and health services in, 105 roads and railways in, 108 undemonstrative character of Malays, 102
Marco Polo, 1
Masaryk, Thomas G., 129
Matsuoka, Yosuke, quoted, 59, 60
Military weakness of southeastern Asiatic countries, ix MILLS, LENNOX A., Some Problems of Post-war Reconstruction, 137–150 cited, 35, 37, 43, 148, 150
Minerals
in Burma, 2–3, 25
in Indo-China, 3
in Philippine Islands, 7, 23
petroleum
in Burma, 2
in Netherlands East Indies, 5
tin
in Burma, 25
in Malaya, 3, 24, 25, 104
in Netherlands East Indies, 5
in Thailand, 3
tungsten
in Burma, 25
in Malaya, 25

Nash, Ernest T., quoted, 67
Nathan, R. S., quoted, 71
National income of Netherlands East Indies, 90
See also Government finance; Income Nehru, Jawaharlal, 121
Netherlands East Indies annual income of various groups in, 90 area of, and area of parts of, 86 Chinese in
antagonism toward, 44
economic restrictions on, 38–39
number and percentage of, 33
political and social status of, 39–40
relations of, with China, 44–45
defense of, inadequate, 65, 94–95, 139
economic development of, 5–6, 87–90
Chinese share in, 29
Japanese share in, 31
United States share in, 24
foreign investments in, 90
British, 26
Chinese, 29
Dutch, 27
estimate of, 22
French, 28
German, 28
Japanese, 31
United States, 24
foreign trade of, 88–89
government
plans for reorganization of, 95 structure of, 90–92, 95–96
government finance, 92–93
public debt, 27, 93
imperial relations of, 94–95 as affected by German and Japanese invasions, 94, 95, 139 included in Japanese co-prosperity sphere, 59–60 indifference of Indonesians to democracy, 138–139 Java
agriculture in, 4–5
insufficient for population needs, 86 annual income of peasants in, 90 area of (with Madura), 86 migration from, encouraged, 87
population of, 86
density of, 4, 86
increase in, 86
pressure of, 86–87
land policy of, 93–94
literacy in, 87, 139
national income of, 90
nationalist movement in, 92
occupational distribution in, 87–88
Outer Provinces
agriculture in, 5
annual income of peasants in, 90
population of, 33, 86
birth and death rates, 86
density of, 86
racial distribution of, 86 possible postwar status of, 95, 140
races in, 86
religions in, 87
resistance of, to Japanese invasion, 95, 139–140
NETHERLANDS INDIES, THE, Amry Vandenbosch, 86–96
Nguyen-Ai-Quoc, 136

Occupational characteristics of southeastern Asiatics, viii
OUTLINE OF OUR RECENT POLITICAL AND TRADE RELATIONS WITH THE PHILIPPINE COMMONWEALTH, E. D. Hester, 73–85

Philippine Islands
acquisition of, in 1898, 64
Chinese in
effort to curb economic activities of, 45
number and percentage of, 33 political, economic, and social status of, 42
relations of, with China, 46 Commonwealth Government ancient influences upon, 74 provisions of Philippine Constitution, 77–81 provisions of Tydings-McDuffie Act, 74–76 defense of, 144
inadequate, 64–65
economic development of, 7, 11, 23
Chinese share in, 29–30
Japanese share in, 31
education in, 79–80, 139
Filipinos receptive to democratic ideas, 139
foreign investments in
British, 26
Chinese, 29–30
estimate of, 22
Japanese, 31
United States, 22–23
geography of, 6
independence
agitation for, 73
as affecting trade relations with United States, 83, 85 official promise of, 73 plans of transition offered, 73–74 land policies of, 77–78 trade relations of, with United States, 81–85
Pibul Songgram, Luang (Plaek Srianong), 117, 118 Population
and population density in Dutch Borneo, 86
in Dutch New Guinea, 86
in Java and Madura, 4, 86
birth and death rates, 86
of Burma, 33, 120
of Indo-China, 33, 129–130
of Malaya, 33, 97
of Netherlands Indies, 33, 86
of Philippine Islands, 33
of Thailand, 33, 112
Population characteristics of southeastern Asia divergent interests, viii foreign middle class, viii, 115 separation of masses from ruling groups, vii–viii Porter, Catherine, cited, 46
Postwar aid to southeastern Asia through purchases of raw materials, 17–18 Postwar status
Chinese domination of southeastern Asia, unwise, 147–148 international collaboration in colonial administration, desirable, 150 international colonial service, objections to, 148–150
of Burma, 127–128, 146–147
of Chinese in southeastern Asia, 48–49 of countries of southeastern Asia, 7–8
of Indo-China, 136, 147
of Japan in international trade, 20–21
of Malaya, 110–111, 144
of Netherlands Indies, 95, 140
of Thailand, 147
Pradist Manudharm, Luang (Pridi Phanomyong), 115
Prajadhipok, King of Siam, 112, 113
Pridi Phanomyong (Luang Pradist Manudharm), 115
Priestley, H. I., cited, 27 Production
agricultural, in Indo-China, 132–133 industrial
in Indo-China, 133
in Japan, 56
in Netherlands East Indies, promotion of, 87, 88 of raw materials, in Netherlands East Indies, 88 Provido, Generoso P., cited, 31

Quezon, Manuel L., 73, 144; quoted, 81, 83
Quigley, Harold S., quoted, 59

Races
and languages in Burma, 120–121 and nationalities in Malaya, 97
in Indo-China, 129–130
in Netherlands East Indies, 86
in Thailand, 112
Raffles, Stamford, 104
Railroads, see Transportation Raw materials possessed in abundance by Japan, 66 produced in Netherlands East Indies, 88
See also Foodstuffs and other agricultural products; Minerals; Rubber; Teakwood Religions
in Burma, 121
in Netherlands East Indies, 87
Remer, Carl F., cited, 29, 30, 36
REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS FOR 1942, 151–154
Rice, see Foodstuffs
Rubber
conditions in southeastern Asia favorable for producing, 18–19
in Java, 5

in Malaya, 3
capital investment in, 104 percentage of world production, 26 introduced into southeastern Asia from Brazil, 5, 18 prices of, 16, 17
rubber industry as affected by synthetic rubber, 19–20

Sarraut, Albert, 27
Saw (Burmese Premier), 121, 123, 124, 126
Schmidt, Emerson P., cited, 19
Seni Pramoj, Mom Rajawongse, 118
Shepherd, Jack, cited, 57
Soejono, Raden A., 95
SOME PROBLEMS OF POSTWAR RECONSTRUCTION, Lennox A. Mills, 137–150 SOUTHEASTERN ASIA AND THE PHILIPPINES AS A MARKET, Arthur R. Upgren, 9–21
Swettenham, Frank, quoted, 36

Ta Chen, see Chen Ta
Tani, Kanjo, 54; quoted, 53 Tariffs, United States, reduction of depends on vigor of domestic economy, 12 would not increase trade with southeastern Asia, 15–16 Taxation in Burma compared with that in U. S., 125–126 Teakwood
importance of, in Burma, 25 importance of, in Thailand, 26
THAILAND, Kenneth Perry Landon, 112–119
Thailand
Chinese in antagonism toward, 46–47, 115–116
loyalty of, to China, 112
number and percentage of, 33, 112
political and social status of, 41–42 communications in, 114–115
defense of, 117–118
economic development of, 3, 114–116
Chinese interests in, 30
education in, 114
foreign investments in
British, 26
Chinese, 30
estimate of, 22
United States, 24
foreign policy of, 118–119
government and politics of, 112–113, 138
government finance, 116–117 expenditures for education, 114 expenditures for irrigation, 116
public debt, 26, 117
government promotion of social services, 113–116
health services in, 113–114
Japanese conquest of, 117–118
occupational distribution in, 112
postwar status of, 147
races in, 112
strategic location of, 112
Thompson, Virginia, cited, 37, 43, 148
Trade barriers of Netherlands East Indies, 89 Transportation
in Burma, 3
British interests in, 25–26
in Indo-China, 3
in Malaya, 4, 108
in Thailand, 3, 114–115
railroads of southeastern Asia, possibility of linking, 112, 114

UPGREN, ARTHUR R., Southeastern Asia and the Philippines as a Market, 9–21

VANDENBOSCH, AMRY, The Netherlands Indies, 86–96 cited, 24, 39, 44, 139; quoted, 40
Van der Valk, H. M. H. A., cited, 26
Van Gelderen, J., cited, 86
Van Kleffens, E. N., 95
Van Mook, H. J., 95
Van Starkenborgh Stachouwer, see Jjarda van Starkenborgh Stachouwer
VINACKE, HAROLD M., Implications of Japanese Foreign Policy for the Philippines and Southeastern Asia, 50–61
Visman, F. H., 95

Wages
in U. S. rubber tire industry, 19 of Chinese and Indian laborers in Malaya, 109
Wang, C. T., 44
WAR IN THE WESTERN PACIFIC, H. E. Yarnell, 62–72
Wavell, Archibald, quoted, 143
Welter, Charles J. I. M., 95
Wilhelmina I, Queen of the Netherlands, 95
WINSTEDT, RICHARD, Malaya, 97–111 World War, second possible Japanese operations (Oct. 1942), 66–67 reasons for Allied failure in (Pacific area), 64–65 reasons for Japanese successes in, 63–64 strategic position of United Nations re Japan, 68–72

YARNELL, H. E., War in the Western Pacific, 62–72
Yoshizawa, Kenkichi, 60